The Kansas Outrage-The Issue, Still

Those who so recklessly "sowed the wind," it the ensetment of the infamous Kansas Nebrask till, have already begun to "cusp the whirlwind." The whole North has risen in rebellion session the party which proposed and the Administratio which canciloued and still sustains that crying inquity. Every one of the gree states has forroally and emphatically repudiated "Pierco and Nebrasks " and, as the Wisconsin of Saturday says, "the cod is not yet." The Freemen of the North will not rest from their labors till they North will not rest from their moors true tray bare restored the barriers against the spread of Rules to be considered by the Judges on Sheep and Wood. sistery, which the Kansas bill prostrated in the dust, and have rescued from the grasp of the slave-bolders and slave-hunters that fair central region of the Republic, which was dedicated from its birth to freedors. These who predicted that the exciteme growing out of the Kansas-Nebraska villainv would kashonlived, already see their mistake Every day despens the feeling of indignation with which that piece of perfidy is regarded by the people of the north. Every day strengthone the determination on their part to right this can the determination on their part to right the grievous wrong, and to drive from power those whose active agency, or not less guilty complicity, it was affected. Every day makes more and more prominent the inevitable issue of the next Presidential Campaign—rasis/ance to Slave-14 Aggression. Democracy, with its transparent humburgs and thread bare pretences and creaking party machinery; Know-Nothingism with its prescriptive, intolerant, un-American doctrines, its dark-lantern organization, and its silver Gray Whigners, with its definition, quantity, quality, and length of slape, ly clap trap; Silver Gray Whiggery, with its decayed 'respectability,' its officious desire to "say the Union"-especially the offices-and its fosail remains of defunct politicians-all these must give place to the only live party of the day-the party which is pladged to set mater and bounds to the " peculiar institution," and to make Freedom instead of Slavery National. This is to be the controlling issue in the approaching contest, howmuchsoever the advocates of Slavery at th South and its allies and apploping at the North tony seek to avert it. By the passage of the Exuser-Nebraska Act, the repeal of the Misson-Compromise, and the organized efforts to force Slavery upon the People of the new Territories, they have raised a spirit which will not down at their hidding, and which can only be appeared by confining Slavery hereafter within strict limits and by dissolving all connection between it and the Federal Government.

"RESULTS OF PROBIBITION IN COMMODICUT" We have received from Measur. Powler & Wells. Publishers, 308 Broadway, N. Y., a copy of a little pamphlet, bearing the above title, and embodying a vast number of well-authenticated facts illustrating the practical workings of the Maine Law in Connecticut. No one cun read this strong array of testimony without sharing the conviction, expressed by the author and compiler, that "if no other State in the Union had "adopted the Frohibitory Law, the universally "approving voice of the people of Connection "would be ample cridence of the advantages of "probibitory legislation." One cannot but admine the Germans for a social puople. The secret of their great enjoyment of the pleasures of life, seem to lie in their confentment, good fellowship, moderate ambition for distinctions and their bonest love of the plain and sub-tantial. Their love of music is universal, and their achievements as a nation, in the inventior and use of musical instruments surpass those of any other in the world.—[Cheveland sight was offered to the citizens of Oleveland.

The orchestra and the various Song Usions were directed by Mr. Balatka, of Milwankee, a highly accomplished musician. Both in the conge and the instrumental pieces, also in the grand choruses, were displayed with a preclaist and skill sel lom witnessed by the people of Oleveland. Buth overtures, selected expressly for the occasion, Waltism Tell, by Rossinia and Martha, by Flotow, imposed a heavy task upon our Oleveland German musicians, but they exculted themselves adoltably. The audience greated with intense neight the introduction to the Opers of William Tell, and the insaterly execution of the salo on the French Horn in the overture to Maritam. What was the most wonderful, was the sgreement and the harmonious blending of the various parts, which, however diverse, were forced to ring out a glorious chime.

We, and every lover of usuaic, feel very thunkful to our German citizens who delighted us with their most peculiar talent in the set of song and music. Especially are our thanks due to the committee of arrangements, and the director, Mr. Balatka, mentioned above.

the We-t, thus records his experience:

Having just returned from a trip to I awa and Misuses-ta, we are more than ever impressed with the importance of our geographical locality, and from an observation extending over a large portion of upper lows and some parts of Minnesota. We are Jully convinced that the counties of Green, Lafayette, lows and Grant are univalled for fettility of soil, beauty of landscape, attents and springs of water, and finally for every advantage that goes to make up a rich agricultural continuity.

After having traveled; eighty miles in one direction without leaving prairie, we are chile semable, that our prairies are small, 'quite so, in comparison.') We learned from government plate, as well as travelers, that the entire county of Grundy is without a tree. The State of Lowa is equally destitute of water. Springs are very rate, and with a few exceptions the streams run over a muchly, sandy bed, rendering them impressable without bridges. Although its amnoth surface presents a beautiful appearance—atill, it is covered with snekes, and unfit for man, unless he has a first-rate lever and ague constitution.

Twenty thousand seres of the best and we ever saw, comains uncultivated within six miles of this town, to be had at prices ranging from five to eight dollars per acre, surrounded by verify at various to make herom and yet it is daily passed over by the emigrant, who wastes means enough in going into lows, to buy a home in the land of white men and railroads.

The Kausas Outrage-The Issue Still

Those who so recklessly "sowed the wind," in the ensetment of the infamous Kansas Nebrasks bill, have already begun to "cusp the whirlwind." The whole North has risen in rebellion squine the party which proposed and the Administration which sanctioned and still metains that crying inquity. Every one of the gree states has forresily and emphatically repudiated "Pierce and Nebrasks," and, as the Wisconsis of Saturday says, "the end is not yet." The Freemen of the North will not rest from their labors till they have restored the barriers against the spread of slavery, which the Kansas hill prostrated in the rould be shortlived, already see their mistake. Every day despens the feeling of indignation with which that piece of perfidy is regarded by the people of the north. Every day strongthone the determination on their part to right this can the determination on their part to right this grievous wrong, and to drive from power those throw whose active agency, or not less guilty complicity, it was effected. Every day makes more and more prominent the inevitable issue of the next Presidential Campaign—resistance to Start the wool is properly done up, and, before weighing, the Judges will fix the relative value of wool per pound on such Sheep. They will also judge, as to the grade of wool, together with the words and thread bare pretences and creaking a to nice cleaneed state.

No sheep will be allowed to compete, unless they have been well washed within two weeks, needed to the time of shearing. ing party machinery; Knew-Nothingiam with ita prescriptive, intolerant, un-American doctrines, its dark-lantern organization, and its silly clap tran; Silver Gray Whiggery, with its decoyed 'respectability.' its officious desire to 'save the Union''—sepecially the offices—and its formers of Wisconsin.

Each competitor will be required to shear his own sheep, or to provide a shearer for that purpose. Shearing will commence at half past ten party which is related to an mater and the day—the party which is pladged to set mates and bounds to the " peculiar lostitution," and to make Freedominatest of Slavery National. This is to be the controlling issue in the approaching contest howmuchsoever the advocates of Slavery at the South and its allies and apploping at the North tony seek to avort it. By the passage of the Excess-Nebraska Act, the reneal of the Misson ri Compromise, and the organized afforts to force Slavery upon the People of the new Territories, they have raised a spirit which will not down at their bidding, and which can only be appeared by confining Slavery hereafter within strict limits and by dissolving all connection between it and the Federal Government.

"RESULTS OF PROBIBITION IN CONSECUTOR. We have received from Messra, Fowler & Wells Publishers, 308 Broadway, N. Y., a copy of a little pamphlet, bearing the above title, and em-bodying a vast number of well-authenticated facts, illustrating the practical workings of the Maine Law in Connecticut. No one can read this strong array of testimony without sharing the conviction, expressed by the author and compiler, that "if no other State in the Union had "edopted the Frobibitory Law, the universally "approving voice of the people of Connecticut
"would be ample evidence of the advantages of "prohibitory legislation." Orders for this useful little work (price 25 cont. per copy) may be addressed to Henry S. Cress, N. Y. Tribun

Military duties called him almost immediately to Winchester but he feared should he leave the matter in suspanse. but he feared should he leave the matter in sua-pense, some more enterprising rival might sup-plant him during his absence, as in the case of Miss Philippe at New York. He improved, there-fore, his brief opportunity to the utmest. The blooming widow had many suitors, but Wash-ington was graced with that renuwn as comobling in the eyes of woman. In a word, before they appracted, they had mutually juighted their faith, and the marriage was to take place as soon as the campaign against Fort Duquesno abould be at an end.

paople. The secret of their great enjoyment of the pleasures of life, seem to lie in their confentthe piece area of the, seem to be in their constant-ment, good fellowship, moderate ambition for distinctive, and their bonest love of the plata and substantial. Their love of music is univer-sal, and their achievements as a nation, in the invention and use of musical instruments, surpasse those of any other in the world.—[Cleveland Plainderler, 29.5. The Lierald of the 30th enye:

The Concert of the German Singer-Unions of North America, yesterday, the 19th of May on the University Heighte was a true national factival for the Germans and a grand and imposing sight was offered to the citizens of Oleveland.

The orebestra and the various Song Unions were directed by Mr. Balatka, of Milwankes, a highly accomplished musician. Both in the songs and the instrumental pieces, also in the grand choruses, were displayed with a precision and skill sellom witnessed by the people of Oleveland. Buth overtures, selected expressly for the occasion, Waltian Tell, by Rossiul, and Martha, by Flotow, imposed a heavy task upon our Cleveland German musicians, but they acquitted themselves adoirably. The audience greeted with intense calight the introduction to the Opera of William Tell, and the masterly execution of the salo on the French Horn is the overture to Martha. What was the tool wonderful, was the agreement and the harmonious blending of the various parts, which, however diverse, were forced to ring out a glorious chime.

who as parts, which, however diverse, were forced to ring out a glorious chime.

We, and every lover of minic, feel very thunkful to our German citizens who delighted us with their most peculiar falent in the set of song and music. Especially are our thanks due to the committee of arrangements, and the director, Mr. Balatka, mentioned above.

and springs of water, and finally for every ad vautage that goes to make up a rich agricultural community.

After having traveled eighty miles in one direction without leaving prairie, we are guite sensible, that our prairies are small, (guite so, in comparison.) We learned from government plate, as well as travelers, that the entire county of Grundy is without a tree. The State of Lows is equally destitute of water. Springs are very rare, and with a few exceptions the streams run over a muchly, study bed, reindering them imposesble without bridges.
